

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method includes receiving from a first entity at least one search term describing a characteristic of a pharmaceutical or medical good or service, providing a description of the good or service to the first entity, and accepting from the first entity a bid to provide the good or service.